

PARENTS FEEDBACK ANALYSIS 2023-2024

During the academic year 2023-2024, parental feedback serves as a crucial mechanism for evaluating the institution's service quality while identifying areas for improvement, such as the need for more hands-on experiences and industry exposure. By emphasizing parental involvement, the institution seeks to cultivate a collaborative community that actively supports students, thereby enriching their educational experience and better equipping them for future success.

Suggestions

- The college should enhance its co-curricular environment. This will provide students with more opportunities to develop diverse skills outside the traditional academic setting.
- Efforts should be made to ensure that students from reserved communities, such as SC, ST, OBC, and minority communities, receive various government scholarships and grants.
